Hearing Will Be Held On Decontrol of Rents

A public hearing on the proposal of whether or not to decontrol rents in the city will be held in the near future as the result of Common Council action at a special meeting last night.

A laws and rules committee report proposing the hearing was unanimously adopted. Time and place of the hearing are to be set by City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer, and a notice is to be published at least 20 days in advance of the date of hearing.

Notice is also to be sent to the Temporary State Housing Rent Commission to determine the city's course on rent control was necessary before July 1, and the special session was called Thursday by Aldermen James K. Ryan, 10th ward; William K. Bodenweber, ninth ward, and Frank Zakszeski, fourth ward, all Democrats, and Republicans Richard V. Roth, 12th ward, and Samuel J. Perry, fifth ward. The session was called for a report by the laws and rules committee.

Rent decontrol, where vacancies occur, becomes effective by state law as of July 1. Full decontrol of rents can be authorized only by local legislative action, and the council is expected to decide whether such action should be taken, after the public hearing is held.

If the council decides on full decontrol of rents the legislation will become effective four months after enactment. If it takes no action on decontrol, the city will be under the state regulation which permits decontrol only after vacancies occur.

Serving on the laws and rules committee, which issued the report in favor of public hearing are William S. Keyser, second ward, and Frank Zakszeski, fourth ward, all Democrats, and Republicans Richard V. Roth, 12th ward, and Samuel J. Perry, fifth ward. (Continued on Page 16, Col. 2)

Locations Given for Salk Clinics Starting Saturday

The locations of the Salk vaccine clinics for polio scheduled Saturday from 9 to 12 noon for Ulster county residents eligible for the shots were announced today by Supervisor Peter M. Williams, chairman of the Public Health Committee of Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

They are:

Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals, Saugerties Health Center, Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital, New Paltz Village Building and Allaben Town of Shandaken Building.

Only children from six months through 19 years will be permitted to take the free injections.

Notice of the second shots approximately six weeks later will be announced.

Those eligible must attend the clinic scheduled in each area as

98 Official Here Monday, New Heat Top for June 17

Another local temperature record fell by the wayside Monday when the mercury shot up to an official 98 degrees at 3 p. m. as Kingston and most of New York state continued to bake in a pre-summer heat wave for the sixth straight day.

Yesterday's 98 reading at 3 p. m. eclipsed a record for the date since 1952 when a high of 97 was recorded.

It was the second new temperature mark to be recorded in the city.

On Saturday, the city engineer's office reported that the mercury had climbed to 106 degrees at 6 p. m. that day.

As a result of the sweltering heat, the Department of Recreation this morning decided to keep Kingston Point Beach open from now on through the summer, rather than waiting for Friday when it was scheduled to reopen after last weekend's schedule. Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, superintendent, said the beach will remain open daily from 10:30 a. m. until 8:30 p. m.

Meanwhile, the weatherman saw no letup in the frying pan weather.

More of the same is predicted for today, tonight and Wednesday—mostly fair and continued very warm and humid weather.

The simmering heat continued to raise the toll of swimming deaths in the state, according to the Associated Press. Since Saturday (Continued on Page 16, Col. 2)

His Speech On Feb. 27 Was Secret

Contradictions In USSR Denied By Top Soviets

Hong Kong, June 18 (AP)—Red China today made public the text of Mao Tse-tung's hitherto secret speech admitting "certain contradictions exist between the government and the masses" in Communist society.

Peiping Radio broadcast the 17,000-word statement which the Chinese Communist boss made Feb. 27 to the 11th enlarged session of the Supreme State Conference.

Leaked to Red Poles

Portions of the speech, leaked to the Polish Communists, attracted wide attention in the western world because they brought Mao into ideological conflict with Russia's leaders. Soviet Communist Party boss Nikkita Khrushchev and other Russian leaders claim no such contradictions between government and masses exist under communism.

Bits and pieces of this speech, first reported outside China by Polish Communists in May, caused a sensation because Mao appeared to be placing himself in ideological conflict with the Soviet leaders.

However, the text indicates the conflicts were ones of degree, taking into consideration special Chinese problems and circumstances. At the same time, the speech gave strong and important support to the Soviet Union in an assessment of the Hungarian revolution.

Part of Struggle

Nikkita Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist boss, contends no contradictions exist between the government and the masses in the U.S.S.R. Mao says contradictions, meaning conflicts of aims and viewpoints among various strata of Chinese society, exist "within the ranks of the people" and are part of the continuing "class struggle" which every "socialist state" must go through before achieving the ultimate goal of communism.

No Red state, including the Soviet Union, claims to be close to achievement of communism yet.

Mao declared that any attempt to deal with such contradictions by "coercive measures will not only be ineffective but harmful."

"We cannot abolish religion by administrative orders, nor can we force people not to believe in it," he said. "We cannot compel people to give up idealism, no more than we can force them to believe in Marxism. In settling matters of controversial issues among the people, we can only use democratic methods, methods of discussion, or criticism, and not coercive nor high handed methods."

Mao conceded that the Hungarian uprising last autumn caused stirrings inside Communist China, with some people hoping for a two-party system on the western model.

Mao declared:

"Certain people in our country (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Democrats Say No Answer Yet

Democratic aldermen, in an answer to a recent statement by Mayor Frederick H. Stang hitting the Common Council's delay in authorizing money for street repair, said in a reply released today that they were not satisfied with results of their efforts to determine how previous sums had been spent.

"No alderman," the statement said, "admitted that he was satisfied with the mayor's ability to explain where the $30,000 already expended had gone, or where he would use the extra $25,000, if he received it."

No Answer, They Claim

In a recent conference with the mayor, the questions were not answered, the statement said, and "one in particular as to what program was set up to use this $25,000, was never answered. The mayor said he could not answer at this time."

Then, before the council convened, they said, the aldermen expressed themselves as amazed that the mayor was unprepared to answer this most important question.

The Democrats said that their statement in reply to the mayor would like to "clear the air in regard to the following points:

- 1—The closest the mayor came to the truth was in his description of our city's streets as being in the worst shape they have ever been.
- 2—The subject of capital improvement of streets could not have been considered at the meeting in question, as the only subject on the agenda was an item for street-patching funds."

Claim Mix-Up

On this they contended that the mayor appeared to have the two mixed up. They then explained that the former, usually a bond issue, for work to last at least 10 years. The patching program, they said will not last that long. They and their constituents have been critical of wasting "by inefficient method of installation."

3—We the Democratic Aldermen moved to give the mayor $5,000 in interim funds to be sure he would not run out of money for patching streets before our next regular meeting in July.

Cite $9,900 Balance

They cited the $9,900 balance as of June 1. In April and May, generally the busiest months for the work, they said only $8,500 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Forst Agrees to Install Protectors Against Soot

The soot nuisance which has plagued residents of the seventh ward for several years is to be corrected under a Supreme Court stipulation entered into by the Forst Packing Company, Inc., of 113 Abel street, Monday.

By a stipulation entered into before Official Referee Christopher Heffernan the Forst Company agrees to make such necessary changes in their plant as are recommended by A. L. Kiewit, director of engineering of The Coal Producers Committee on Smoke Abatement.

Among the corrections are the installation of high velocity air

Baxter Defeats Mayer In Union Poll by 43

C. H. "Hank" Mayer of Andes was defeated by George Baxter of Newburgh for business agent of Local 17, International Hod Carriers and Laborers, at the annual election by a vote of 425 to 332.

Mayer, running to succeed himself as business agent, ran into opposition and became the storm center of local labor organizations recently when he became involved in a controversy arising from his membership in the American Forum For Socialist Education.

He admitted membership in the organization, to which Communists reportedly belong, but later resigned saying he did not realize that the group had such affiliations. That matter created a storm of protest from other union members.

Others running for business agent were Louis Mastro and Clarence Slater, both of Newburgh. Mastro received 261 votes and Slater 25.

For assistant business agent was Larry Diorio of Newburgh who defeated Augustus Parker of Kingston by a vote of 636 to 381.

Ralph DiOrto of Newburgh was reelected president over Joseph Shina by a vote of 564 to 433.

Joseph Becker of Newburgh was reelected financial secretary and business representative over Peter Maniscalco of Newburgh by a vote of 564 to 478.

Elections were held in three different polling places on Sunday, June 16, and the vote was then tabulated.

Loan Is Opening Office July 5th, Giant Moving Job

Preparations for moving into Home-Seekers' new main office at 235 Fair street are well under way. Dewese W. DeWitt, executive vice president and treasurer, reported to the association's board of directors at a meeting Monday night.

With Friday, July 5, scheduled as the opening date for the new office, the physical transfer of all savings and mortgage records will be accomplished on July 4, a holiday, so as not to cause any interruption in service to the public.

No Loss in Time

"It will be possible for a customer to transact business at the present downtown office as late as 4 p. m. Wednesday, July 3, and then come to the new uptown office at 9 a. m. Friday, July 5, to make another transaction—which we will be able to complete without lost time looking for his account ledger," Mr. DeWitt emphasized.

"Thousands of ledger cards and other records will be carefully packed by our staff after the close of business on Wednesday, sealed to assure against any leakage of confidential information, and transported to the new office. Then they must be opened by staff personnel, double checked to make sure (Continued on Page 8, Col. 6)

There have been evacuations at previous tests, always in time to escape harm from fallout.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spokesmen said the evacuation was not unexpected and was more a drill than a necessity.

Their explanation: It was known that winds could sift light radioactive fallout over the control point, which is 10 or more miles from the actual detonation point.

It also was believed that such fallout would not be a health hazard. The scientific crews were in need of an evacuation drill. So they decided to go ahead with the test this morning in spite of the fallout possibility.

The expected happened. And as it turned out, a spokesman said, the evacuation was unnecessary. The fallout, he added, was far below the level that constitutes a health hazard.

Two-Alarm Blaze Is Stubborn

Firemen Praised, Also Police and Utility Workers

A two-alarm fire originating in a boxcar at the loading platform of the Zwick & Schwartz, wholesale fruits and produce building, 36 O'Neil street, late last night, badly damaged the structure and destroyed virtually all contents.

Deputy Fire Chief George D. Matthews and five volunteer firemen were hurt in fighting the blaze, and an investigation was under way today to verify reports that a vagrant was seen leaving the box car in which it started.

Estimates of the loss were not completed today, but Louis M. Schwartz, who, with William Zwick operates the business, indicated this morning that the loss in produce would be 100 per cent and that damage to the building is close to a total loss.

Firemen Injured

John Glowinski, a Twaalfskill Hose Company volunteer, appeared to have suffered the most serious injury. He was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment of an ankle injury and injuries of the left arm. His condition was reported as "good" today. He was injured in a fall.

Matthews Summons All

All paid and volunteer companies were mobilized for the fire for which the first call was by telephone at 11:13 p. m. The first alarm from Box 1351, Smith avenue and Cornell street, was sounded at 11:14, and the second a minute later from Broadway and Henry street, Box 1211.

Deputy Chief Matthews directed that the second alarm be given as soon as he reached the fire two minutes following the first call.

"One look told me it would be one of the most stubborn fires we've had in some time," he said. His first thought was (Continued on Page 8, Col. 5)

Local Mail Carriers Urging Public Support for Raises

More than 90 per cent of the nation's letter carriers are holding down an additional job in order to survive, it was pointed out today by Fred Hofbauer, president of Kingston Local 550, National Association of Letter Carriers, in urging the public to support its efforts to "obtain a living wage."

Mr. Hofbauer said that in many cases the wives of letter carriers held down jobs to supplement the family budget.

"It takes a carrier 25 years to reach his top salary, which is then only $4,710 before taxes," he explained.

He said that Local 550 was urging its friends and patrons, the public, to write to their representatives in the Congress telling them a letter carrier should "also share in the nation's prosperity."

Communications in support of salary increases for letter carriers should be addressed to Senators Irving M. Ives and Jacob K. Javits and Congressman Ernest C. Wharton, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Hofbauer said the Heller committee of the University of California shows that you need $5,798 per year if you're buying your own home and $5,600 a (Continued on Page 16, Col. 5)

Fallout Reported Small After Fourth Atomic Test Is Exploded From Balloon

Atomic Test Site, Nev., June 18 (AP)—Scientists today fired the fourth shot of the summer atomic test series, a small one touched off from a tethered balloon.

Then, when radioactive clouds started heading for their control point, the scientists hopped into buses and cars and retreated to their headquarters at Camp Mercury.

There have been evacuations at previous tests, always in time to escape harm from fallout.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spokesmen said the evacuation was not unexpected and was more a drill than a necessity.

Their explanation: It was known that winds could sift light radioactive fallout over the control point, which is 10 or more miles from the actual detonation point.

It also was believed that such fallout would not be a health hazard. The scientific crews were in need of an evacuation drill. So they decided to go ahead with the test this morning in spite of the fallout possibility.

Lack of Russian Jobs Mocking Communist Boss

Vienna, June 18 (AP)—Unemployment stalks the Soviet satellite empire like a specter, making a mockery of Communist Boss Khrushchev's predictions. The Communists claim unemployment is impossible in a "socialist"—that is, Communist—state. And Khrushchev has predicted America's grandchildren will live under that sort of "socialism."

Western diplomats here express amazement that there was so little challenge from Washington to the Khrushchev remark. Said one such observer:

Falling Apart Now

"The obvious answer was this: All right, let Khrushchev wait for the third generation of Americans—but his own Red empire is falling apart now."

"Even Tito's Yugoslavia has decided to disband the Soviet-style collective farms. Yugoslavia is a poorhouse subsisting largely on American aid and what it can squeeze out of Russia."

"Poland is bankrupt and aided by an American credit."

"Hungary is flat on its back and begging credits all the way from here to China."

"East Germany, Romania and Albania have gone begging—getting emergency aid out of Moscow to forestall revolts."

"Bulgaria almost starved last winter, and has deported masses of unemployed to Russia and Czechoslovakia to prevent revolution."

'Grandiose Baloney'

"All the grandiose baloney of extending billions of credits to Asia and North Africa from the Moscow treasury has proved just that. Now Moscow has to work out money to keep afloat the satellites in East Europe, which it has milked since 1945."

The troubles of Poland and Hungary are being regularly reported by western correspondents. Russia has had to turn back at least a small percentage of the money it took from these countries.

The troubles of other satellites, where western correspondents are admitted only rarely, are becoming increasingly apparent. Traditionally agricultural Bulgaria, which a population of 7½ million, was so hard up last winter that Russia had to send an emergency shipment of 50,000 tons of wheat to prevent starvation. This was mentioned in the Communist-controlled Bulgarian press.

News of Deporting 15,000

A correspondent from Communist-ruled Poland last January broke the news that Bulgaria was deporting 15,000 people to Russia to work on the Siberian "Virgin Lands." They were jobless at the home and the Bulgarian regime wanted to get them off the streets.

Later came reliable diplomatic reports that the Bulgarians expelled from Sofia, the capital, between 10,000 and 12,000 people, most of them jobless.

In Romania, says diplomatic reports, unemployment is apparently more acute than at any time during the past decade. Conditions there were so bad last summer that western travelers found bread rationed in the farming villages.

Czechoslovakia, still the latest impoverished of the Red states, wants to take only skilled laborers from the other states to relieve their pressures. Czechoslovakia has troubles of its own with its unskilled workers.

Huguenot Group, Paltz Patentees Meet at Luncheon

Members of the Huguenot Historical Society and descendants of the New Paltz Patentees had their annual luncheon Saturday at the Old Fort, Huguenot street, New Paltz.

The combined membership of the two societies is about 500. Membership Limited

The descendants of the New Paltz Patentees limits membership to those who are descended from a Patentee of New Paltz.

The Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz does not limit its membership. Its only requirements are that a person be interested in the old houses, The Street of Huguenots, a descendant or generally interested in the good of our community.

In the absence of the president of the Huguenot Society, Walter Hasbrouck and the president of the descendants of the Patentees, the meeting was presided over by the secretary, Kenneth E. Hasbrouck. The meeting was brief and the members spent the remainder of the afternoon visiting some of the houses on the street and the Colonel Josiah Hasbrouck in the Town of Gardiner.

New members were welcomed and Miss Annette I. Young was officially presented to the group as a new trustee. She is the second woman in the history of the Society to be elected to the board of trustees. The first was Miss Cornelia E. DuBois, who gave so many untiring years of service to the care of the Memorial House and to many other historic endeavors of the community.

Improvements to the Memorial House such as the new siding on the south side was brought to the attention of the members and their financial support for expenses during the past year was gratefully acknowledged. During the past year the Reformed Church and the Town Board have aided by contributing to the siding of the house and the plates that have been placed on tombstones in the Old Cemetery.

House to Open July 1

The Colonial Josiah Hasbrouck House will be open to the public July 1. The second floor is now completely redecorated and the genealogy room is now available to the public.

Endowments for the various houses on the streets was brought to the attention of the members. It appears that the only practical method of assuring the upkeep of the houses is to organize family groups and friends who will raise funds for an amount of at least $30,000 for each house. The groups will work within the Huguenot Historical Society. Such an arrangement is already being planned by the descendants of Abraham Hasbrouck.

The meeting was concluded with questions by the members concerning the houses and well-being of the Society.

New members are always welcome and applications for membership will be honored immediately by either Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, secretary of the Huguenot Historical Society, or Kip Bevier, secretary of the Descendants of the New Paltz Patentees.

Elementary Group Names Ratcliff 1957-58 Chairman

At the last meeting of the elementary cabinet for the Kingston Elementary Schools, Frank B. Ratcliff, principal at School No. 2, was elected chairman of the group for the year 1957-58.

Miss Mary E. Polhemus, principal at School No. 3, was elected secretary. The current officers are John J. Finerty, principal of School No. 5, chairman, and William R. Reardon, principal of Schools Nos. 6 and 8, secretary.

It is the purpose of the elementary cabinet to coordinate the administrative planning of the Kingston Elementary Schools. The cabinet has been meeting twice a month in the George Washington School between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.

Denies Hussein Divorced

Amman, Jordan, June 18 (AP)—A Jordan government spokesman has denied a Cairo newspaper report that King Hussein divorced Queen Dina last week. The Jordanian royal couple several times been rumored on the verge of divorce since he went to Cairo in September 1956 to visit her "ailing father" and did not return to Amman. The latest divorce report was published by the Cairo paper Al Ahran, quoting authoritative sources in Baghdad.

Catholic Drive On in Germany Against Socialists

Bonn, Germany, June 18 (AP)—Religious undertones are arising in West Germany's forthcoming federal elections. Socialist leaders are concerned over statements made by two Roman prelates admonishing the faithful not to vote Socialist.

The Most Rev. Michael Keller, bishop of Muenster, said he considers it improper for faithful Catholics to vote Socialist. The bishop said it pained him to make the statement, since some Socialist political and economic aims can be supported by Catholics.

Nevertheless, he said, "The Social Democrats in Germany oppose the (Catholic) church in almost all important cultural issues" and the Socialists' basic attitudes render it impossible for faithful Catholics to vote the Socialist ticket.

See Intention

He did not actively support the Christian Democratic Union, which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer heads, but the Socialists were quick to claim this was his intention.

A special wing of the Social Democratic party, "the Federation of Christian Socialists," got out a statement protesting what the Bishop of Muenster had said and also comments of the Archbishop of Paderborn, the most Rev. Lorenz Jaeger.

The archbishop said coexistence and tolerance of non-Catholic organizations cannot be accepted. To do so, he said, is to act only out of indolence and cowardice.

Replying the Socialist Federation pronounced the statements an attempt to "infringe on freedom of opinion in favor of a political party."

Argue They're Christians

The federation argued that Socialists are as good Christians as anyone else. In the Hitler era, it said, Socialists stood almost alone for a time supporting ideals normally associated with Christian teachings.

Catholics are numbered among the federation's membership and the group said it was highly improper for Catholic authorities "to stamp Catholics voting for other political groups as second class Catholics."

Actually, many Protestants have joined Catholics in voting for Roman Catholic Adenauer. Protestants make up 50 per cent of the West German population, Catholics 46 per cent.

Leaders of the West German Socialist party argue that it is no doctrinaire Marxist group but is roughly akin to the British Labor Party.

"We have our Marxists, certainly," a Socialist spokesman said. "But a lot of our younger members have never read a word of Marx."

Erich Ollenhauer, head of the Socialist party, is a Protestant churchgoer.

Point Beach Stays Open

Due to the early prelude of summer, which doesn't arrive until Friday, the Kingston Point bathing beach is now open and will remain open throughout the rest of the summer.

According to Andrew Murphy 3rd, superintendent of the Department of Recreation, the beach was not due to be opened this week until Friday. "With this present heat wave on," Murphy added, "it was decided to begin the regular summer schedule a few days in advance."

Regular beach hours, now in effect, are from 10:30 a. m. until 8:30 p. m. daily.

Boy's Club Sets Summer Program

The summer program of the Kingston Boys' Club will get under way on June 21, and will feature learn to swim classes, over-night camping trips, and playground activities across the street from the Boys' Club.

During the school vacation the Boys' Club will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. on weekdays and 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Saturdays.

All Boys' Club members who are non-swimmers are urged to join the learn-to-swim class conducted by the Boys' Club in conjunction with the learn to swim program conducted by the recreation Department at the City Beach. Boys will leave the Boys' Club every Tuesday and Thursday at 9:30 a. m., starting July 2.

Camping Slated

Over-night camping is scheduled for Wednesdays and the third group of eight boys will leave the club July 3, at 3:30 p. m. and will return at 9 a. m. the following day. This program will be open to boys 9 years of age and over and those planning to attend must sign up for these trips two weeks in advance.

The playground across the street from the club will feature daily: Softball, volleyball, badminton, and many types of outdoor games. The Boys' Club softball league that has been playing spring training games for the past six weeks will officially open Wednesday, June 26, when the Minors take on the Hawks at 10 a. m. Friday, June 28, the Hornets will play the Rebels.

Baseball games for the 13-15 team and 12 years and under team will be scheduled during the summer.

A full length movie show will be shown on the first rainy day of each week.

The Kingston Boys' Club is a member of Kingston Area Community Chest.

Ground Breaking For Hartwick Dormitory Slated

Hartwick College announced that it will break ground for its new men's dormitory Sunday, July 7 at 4 p. m.

President Miller A. F. Ritchie announced that the bid of $399,850.00 submitted by Neil R. Neilson, 18 Woodside avenue, Oneonta, was the low bid accepted for construction costs of the building. Other bids submitted were $424,440.00 from Holoway and Associates, Inc., 119 Main street, Delhi and $444,999.00 from I. & O. A. Slutsky, Hunter, $459,350 Total Cost

The total cost for the new building on the Hartwick College campus will be $459,350.00. Sources of income to meet this cost include a $275,000.00 loan from the federal government, $133,484 from the United Lutheran Church and $40,866 from private sources.

To be located on the same level as the present Dewar Hall for Women, the new men's dormitory will be named Leitzell Hall. It will be on the opposite side of the campus from Dewar

Hall and will be equidistant from the present chapel entrance.

The low bid of $399,850. represents an increase of some $37,350 over originally estimated construction costs.

Corner stone for the new Leitzell Hall will be laid October 3 in connection with Founder's Day activities at the college. The dormitory will be open to begin work prior to the ground-breaking ceremony on July 7.

Port Ewen

To Shut Off Water Unless Rent Is Paid

Port Ewen, June 18—The water supply will be shut off at homes where water rents have not been paid by the deadline Thursday, it was announced today by Harry Newton, superintendent of Port Ewen Water District.

Following the deadline date, delinquent water rent payers will be notified and if the rent is not paid in five days the water will be shut off.

Mr. Newton said that to conserve water and pressure for emergencies, lawn and garden watering is restricted to 7 to 9 p. m.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 18, 1957

FOOT OFF THE GAS

Traffic safety experts throughout the country were happy to hear the resolve of the big motor makers in Detroit to de-emphasize speed and stress safety in their products from here on out.

A couple of seasons ago, the Ford Motor Company ventured admirably to highlight safety features of its cars—safety belts, cushioned dashboards, special steering wheel, and safety latches designed to keep doors from springing open in a crash.

Unhappily the promotion of safety didn't seem to catch on too well.

The result: all the manufacturers turned to stressing speed and power harder than ever. They entered cars in racing competitions and sought to outdo each other at the track and on the advertising drawing boards.

To their high credit, they realized the risky road they were traveling in a period when accident fatalities are at a high level and threatening to mount higher.

Let's hope millions of motorists at the wheels of cars with power and speed to burn will take their cue from the makers and put the lid on.

THE NATURE OF THINGS

Two boys on a bicycle spied a cottontail rabbit in a yard. They dismounted in a rush and tore pell-mell after the frightened creature. With yells of "Head 'im off!" and "You go that way!" they chased the rabbit around one house, then around another, and finally went pelting off into someone's backyard.

A lady of tender sensibilities witnessed the hot pursuit and said indignantly to a neighbor, "Those nasty boys! Chasing that sweet little bunny!" The neighbor having once been a small boy, nodded without conviction.

Presently the boys came trudging back, hot and panting and empty-handed, to their bicycle. The lady of tender sensibilities might as well know that her sympathy for the poor, defenseless little bunny was wasted. It is the nature of small boys to pursue anything that runs from them. It is the nature of rabbits to run faster than small boys.

TEACHING BY DOING

An observant person, on a walk around his neighborhood or on the daily trip to work, can find dozens of things that could be improved. Most of us, however, are content to complain about such things, or at best to expect the "authorities" to take necessary action. We forget how much an individual can do.

A school teacher in Geary, Okla., takes a different attitude. She drives 30 miles to work each day and for a time was disturbed by the trashy look of the scenery she passed. She made it a practice to stop for a few minutes to pick up trash. She tore down old political campaign posters and useless signs. Now the road she travels to work is much more pleasant.

The Oklahoma teacher is a first-rate citizen. She is aware of the responsibilities that go with citizenship. Beyond that, she is imbued with a desire to do more than her duty—to make the world a better place, at least in the small part of it in which lives. TOO MANY LAWS

The Journal, of Moro, Oregon, says: "The Washington legislature passed less than one bill of four introduced. And that was probably too many."

* It seems as if almost every bill passed by our busy-bee legislatures costs the groaning taxpayers more money—and, at the same time, imposes more restrictions on their rights, liberties, and freedom of action. The urge to legislate has the characteristics of a disease—unless it is checked, the patient, which is the public at large, gets sicker and sicker.

"These Days"

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
A PHILOSOPHER'S LOGIC

John Somerville, Ph.D., has had an astonishing career as a Soviet specialist in the United States. The Cutting and Rockefeller Foundations and Columbia and Stanford Universities granted him fellowships (which is the scholar's term for a subsidy) to study in Soviet Russia with the object of learning about the inner workings of the Communist system right there in the heart of things. He spent two years in Soviet Russia and one year in the Hoover Library learning about revolutions. He has written considerably on the subject, both books and articles, and teaches at Hunter College in New York which is a tax-supported institution.

In recent years, Dr. John Somerville has been appearing in Smith Act cases to testify as an expert on the nature of the Communist conspiracy which he, of course, denies is a conspiracy. His general philosophy on the subject and the basis of his testimony has appeared in a book entitled "The Communist Trials and the American Tradition."

The object of the book is to prove that the Communists do not believe that it is their function to overthrow any government by force and violence, but what they actually do believe is that the majority should rule, a concept that Marx and Engels got from John Locke and Thomas Jefferson.

As this runs counter to 40 years of history and experience, as it violates what just has been seen in Hungary and Poland, as it is opposed to the entire doctrine of the dictatorship of the proletariat by means of the Communist Party through its central agency either called the Politburo or the Presidium, it cannot be correct. What one encounters here is a prolonged explanation which does not stand up even under Lenin's statement of the party's attitude:

"In order to win the majority of the population to its side, the proletariat must first of all overthrow the bourgeoisie and seize state power and, secondly, it must introduce Soviet rule, smash to pieces the old state apparatus, and thus at one blow undermine the rule, authority and influence of the bourgeoisie and of the petty-bourgeois compromisers in the ranks of the non-proletarian toiling masses. Thirdly, the proletariat must completely and finally destroy the influence of the bourgeoisie and of the petty-bourgeois compromisers among the majority of the non-proletarian toiling masses by the revolutionary satisfaction of their economic needs at the expense of the exploiters."

Lenin's statement is more accurately descriptive of the revolution wherever it has taken place. In 1917-18, I lived through the early revolutionary days when Lenin and Trotsky ruled the Russian people. There was no majority vote. I was present, as a reporter, at the Constituent Assembly at which the Bolsheviks represented a tiny fraction, but they had the support of sailors and soldiers with guns and they closed down the Constituent Assembly which might have been representative of a greater percentage of the Russian people than the Communist Party under Khrushchev represents today.

In China, there never was a people's revolution or a people's democracy or a majority or a minority. The Chinese Communists were able to seize power because Soviet Russia gave them the supplies of the Japanese Kwantung Army in Manchuria whereas the United States, under the aegis of General George Marshall, deprived the Nationalists of their position and fighting power.

The role played by General Marshall aroused controversy which will not be settled in this generation; but that the Chinese Communist Party from 1921 to 1949 devoted itself to overthrowing the existing government of China by force and violence, by intrigue and conspiracy, is historic fact that can be sustained day by day by the course of events. This was no majority decision that it preferred Mao Tse-tung to Chiang Kai-shek or vice versa. No one asked the majority or even a sizeable minority of the Chinese people what they wanted.

Khrushchev in his C.B.S. telecast defended the murderous role of the Communists in Hungary and said that the Kadar regime rested on the majority of the Hungarian people. This, of course, is a cynical lie and no book by a Hunter College professor can make it anything else or bring back to life those who sacrificed themselves on the altar of liberty.

What, I wonder, did Professor Somerville really learn during the 10 years that he studied in the Academy of Sciences of Soviet Russia? (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
MEKONG MEDICINE MEN

Some months ago we wrote about young Dr. Thomas A. Dooley who returned to Laos in the Far East to continue the great work he had undertaken while a navy medical officer caring for and helping refugees who were trying to escape, to crack through this iron or bamboo curtain and achieve or regain their liberty. While a navy officer he had improvised a medical camp at Haiphong in North Vietnam during this flight for freedom in that region.

In an editorial in The Journal of the American Medical Association last September, he said, "I saw 600,000 who fled. The memory returns like searing flame. Their anguish. Their panic. Their tears. Their haggard women. The death. No one who has ever witnessed such a heartbreaking exodus will forget it for the rest of his life."

Dr. Dooley wrote also a widely read book, "Deliver Us From Evil" in which this experience was described and the royalties from this book are being used to help finance his current work in Laos, a mission which has the approval of the State Department, the International Co-operation Administration, and the Laotian government. Dr. Dooley feels that physicians have a special calling to help underdeveloped communities of the world which are threatened by communism.

In a recent letter to the Editor of The Journal, Dr. Dooley writes, "I would like to thank the hundreds of doctors who have written and helped me and tell them something of what has passed, reference we four 'Mekong Medicine Men.' Our mission has two ends. Because I am a doctor, my duty is to the people who need doctors. They are needed here. That is simple. The second end of our mission is to make a sober, honest effort to show Asians who have never seen an American just what four of us are like. This is not always so simple. The minister of health of Laos is the only doctor in the kingdom, by international standards. When we arrived he asked me to set up the team in a village in the foothills of the Himalayas.

"We were given a small limestone one-story building. With much help from the villagers, a good deal of scrubbing, scouring, and painting, we converted this into a hospital. Ours is a three-room, 25 'mat' hospital (the classification of hospitals by bed capacity does not apply here). One room of the hospital is used as living-quarters for our Lao nurses, the second room triples as an operating room, delivery room and sick-care room. The third room is the ward—with bamboo mats on the floor. This is not so difficult on the patient but it plays havoc on an Anglo-Saxon physician's back pain.

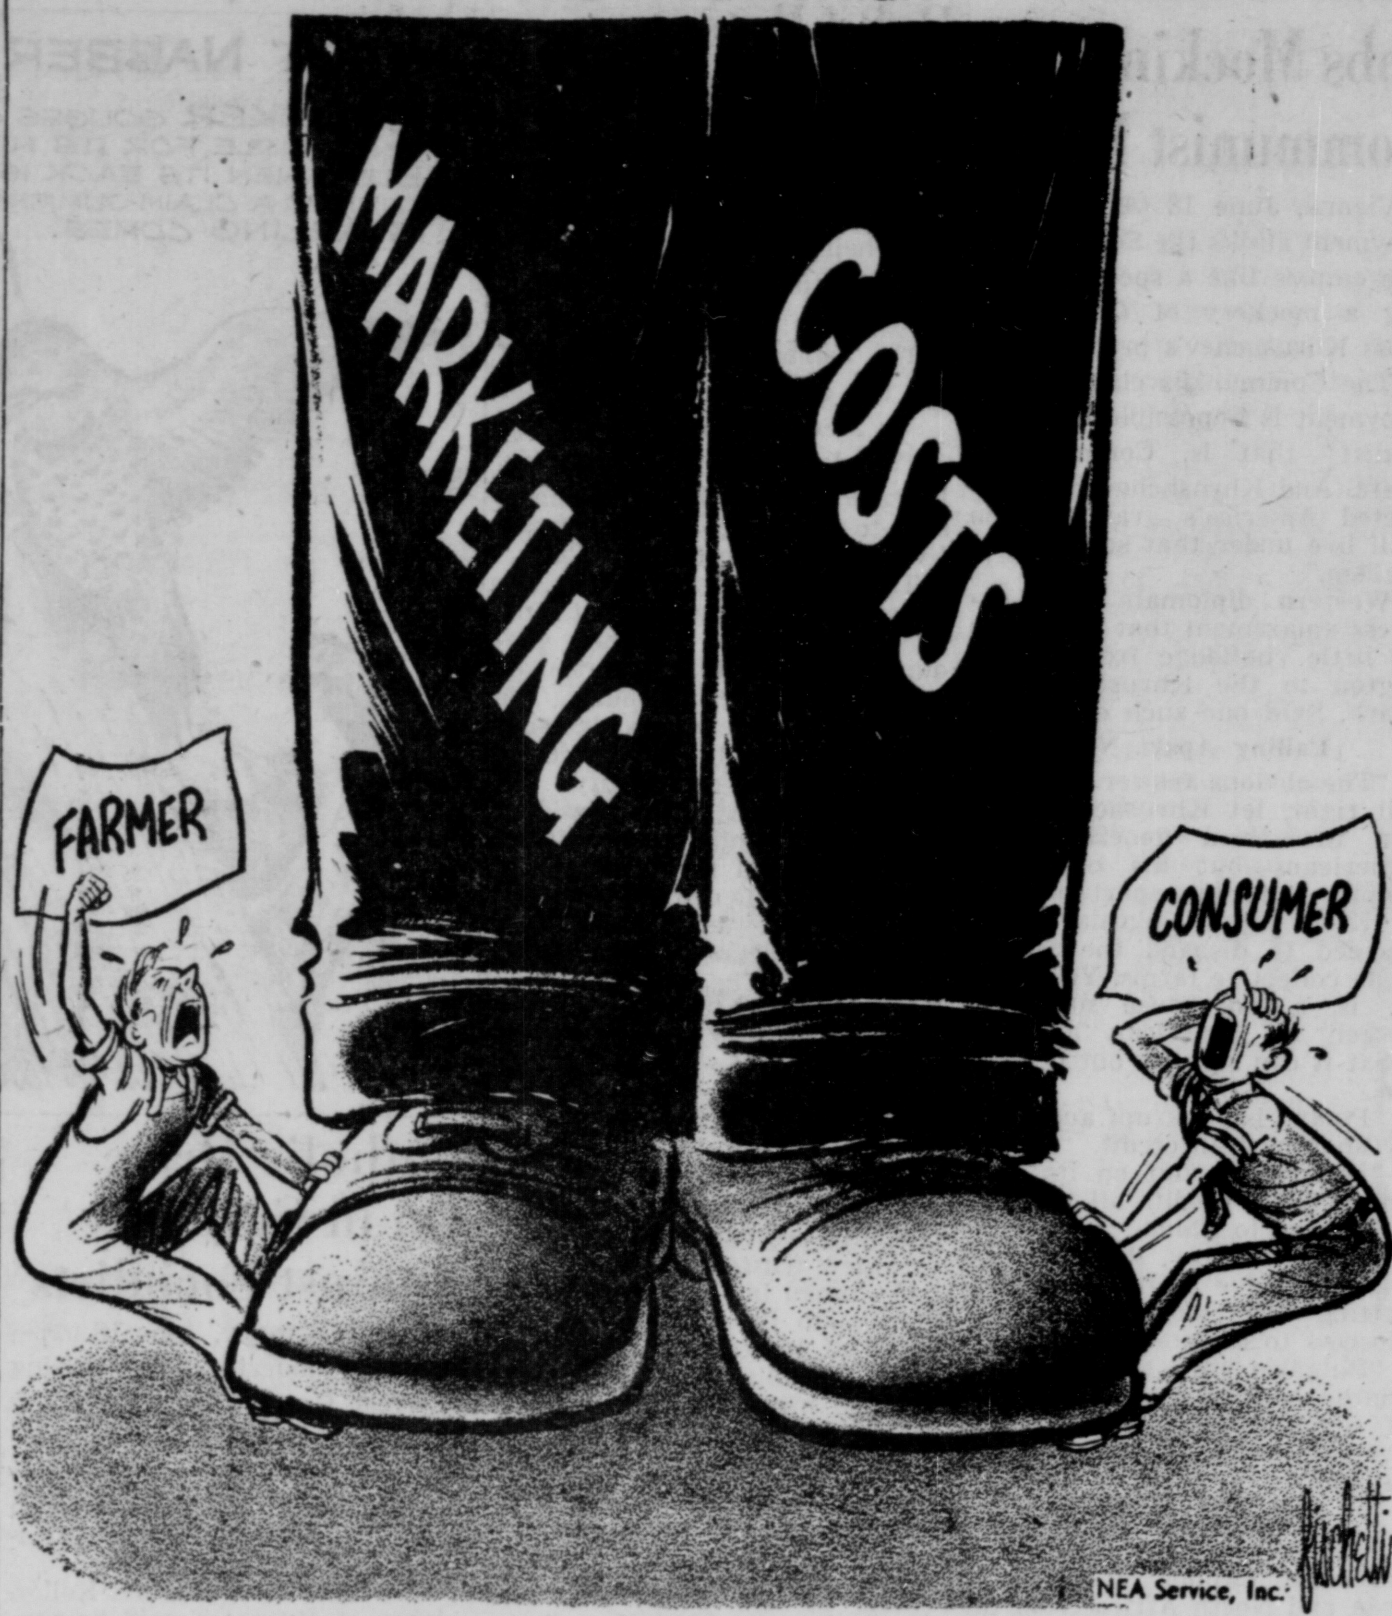

"If the reader could put this journal down, grab a PAA plane and fly 10,000 miles to Bangkok, Thailand, transfer and fly 400 miles north to Vientiane, and then drive eight hours through the jungle—we would offer you a cup of coffee and ask you to spend the day with us."

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington, (NEA)—One of the most useful functions of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' press conferences is to deflate screwball foreign policy trial balloons launched by other experts.

The secretary has developed a nice technique for handling these situations. He's diplomatic and polite.

Thus when a reporter asked about California Sen. William Knowland's latest flash to get the Russians out of Hungary in exchange for a North Atlantic Treaty Organization pull-out from Norway, Dulles didn't say it was a darn fool idea.

He began with the flattery due a Republican leader. He buttered Knowland all over.

"I share Senator Knowland's feelings that we should make every effort to get Soviet troops out of Hungary," Dulles said. "We should test the sincerity of what Khrushchev said."

DULLES NEXT went into a few paragraphs of background about the mutual security arrangements which the United States has made with 45 other civilized nations.

Then he let Knowland have it. "It is not proper that any one of these nations should be asked to withdraw from these arrangements," said Dulles. "It is not appropriate that any nation should be asked to withdraw."

Finis one beautiful theory. Later the senator issued a statement that his views had been misinterpreted.

Similarly, Secretary Dulles put in proper perspective Texas Sen. Lyndon Johnson's widely heralded New York speech.

In it, the Democratic majority leader had proposed what was acclaimed as a brand-new idea for exchange of radio and television time with the Russians.

DULLES WAS ASKED at his press conference what he thought about that. He commented that back in October 1955, at the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting in Geneva, the idea for a monthly half-hour radio exchange time had been offered to the Russians. They turned it down with Molotov's comment that the Russians didn't want any such "social scum." But the United States is still pressing for it, at every opportunity, says Dulles.

That punctured the Johnson balloon pretty effectively, but the secretary let it down gently, with more butter.

He was glad to see the Johnson endorsement and adoption of this proposal, the secretary said. It was a strong expression on the effectiveness of our bipartisan foreign policy.

In recent weeks, Dulles has had to spend much of his press conference time trying to keep U. S. disarmament negotiations on the track.

INSPIRED LARGELY by the ambition and optimism of ex-Gov. Harold Stassen, American delegate to the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee there has been a series of fantastic predictions on what they were to accomplish.

In allowing exaggerated hopes to be built up for acceptance of American disarmament proposals, it is now being freely mentioned that Governor Stassen may have performed his greatest disservice yet to the Eisenhower administration.

There has been no official repudiation of Governor Stassen. But his dreams of disarmament are pretty well demolished by the last Dulles press conference statements.

"We are not disposed to present as a U. S. program anything that involves our European allies without their unanimous approval," says Dulles. "We can't discard the views of our allies just to make speed in a bilateral deal with the Soviet."

That puts disarmament agreement prospects a long way off.

Transfer Buys Hand Cheaply

BY OSWALD JACOBY

If you think that such gadgets as the JTB are for experts only take a look at the North hand. You are playing in an ordinary game and your partner opens with what you know is a standard 16- to 18-point no-trump.

You also know that you would much prefer a two heart contract to a one no-trump contract but experience has taught you that no matter what agreement you have with your partner, he is going to bid again if you bid two hearts.

Hence, you have to choose between an unsatisfactory pass and an unsatisfactory bid.

Playing the JTB you simply respond two diamonds. He will rebid two hearts and you will pass. He will glare at you but when he sees the dummy he will relax and play your side's best contract.

South had no trouble making his two heart contract. He lost two clubs, one diamond and the two high trumps.

East and West would have made three spades if they had been able to get into the bidding but the transfer bid had managed to shut them out.

West had a pretty good hand but could not afford to act over the opening no-trump. When the bid came around to him the second time he would surely have made a takeout double if he had known North was weak, but the transfer bid could have been with a strong hand just as well. Hence West had to pass the second time.

When North passed at two hearts East knew what was going on but he could not afford to act. He had a bad hand himself and it was far too dangerous for him to stick his neck out. Hence North and South were able to buy the hand.

Democrats Hit for Refusal To Take Arms Mission Post

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 17—Another example of the hypocrisy of modern politics and the tendency of some legislators nowadays to eschew the role of statesmanship for the easier role of the politician is emphasized by the refusal of the Democratic party in the Senate to let any of its members participate in the United States mission on disarmament now meeting in London.

If the Eisenhower administration happened in the past to make a decision a few days before it had a chance to inform the Senate, a hue and cry arose that the Executive was "abandoning bipartisanship." If the Secretary of State makes a comment, as he did last week, praising the Democratic leaders for advocating an exchange of radio or television programs with the Soviet and mentions that this has been the department's policy all along, caustic statements are issued by prominent members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saying this is a supercilious way to treat a Democratic leader.

Smart Politics

All this merely illustrates the pettiness of the controversies that are initiated in the name of "smart politics." To make a partisan football of the nation's foreign policies is nothing new. The Republicans did it with the League of Nations just after World War I ended and contributed to the very weakness of Europe which brought on World War 2. But history is repeating itself now with the Democrats in the saddle. Despite pious professions of interest in world peace and disarmament and great concern for the making of a foreign policy that will reduce the burdens of national defense, the Senate's Democrats have declined an invitation to become informed at first hand on what is going on between the Soviet government and the western allies on the subject of disarmament.

If ever there was justification for the old saying that "party politics should end at the water's edge," it is today with the world facing the terrifying problems of a nuclear age.

The Party Struggle

But the instances in which the opposition party should be co-operating with the party in control of the White House and State Department, and in which such co-operation is being scorned, are multiplying daily. Politics and the selfishness of the party struggle seems to be superseding American idealism. The American people are rightly worried about disarmament talks. Will these talks get anywhere? Will America take chances and agree to disarm and trust the enemy's pledges? This isn't a problem for one political party but for all Americans. If ever there was a time when the vigilance of the Senate's leaders, Republicans and Democrats, was necessary it is in such a conference as is going on in London now.

When the nation's safety is at stake, the American people do not want their Senators to run away from their responsibilities as outlined in the Constitution. This document says it is the duty of the Senate to advise and consent before a treaty or agreement is finally ratified. But this certainly cannot be done as effectively if the Senate is dependent on what is printed in the press or if the Secretary of State has to outline it all after the agreements are signed.

1919 Experience

The United States Senate found in 1919 that it could not change the Versailles Treaty without securing a new peace conference to re-negotiate the changes desired. The time to negotiate and make changes to conform to the will of the Senate is before a treaty is signed. This is what has given rise in recent years to consultations with Senators in advance of the signing of treaties. President Truman recently recognized the importance of the principle when he named the last Senator Arthur Vandenberg, republican, to be a member of the delegation which formulated the United Nations Charter at San Francisco in 1945. Mr. Vandenberg in fact made some important contributions to the writing of that very document.

But now the Democrats, who have cried loudest in recent years against the alleged lack of consultation with them by the Eisenhower administration, are refusing an invitation to sit down with the members of the American mission which is attempting to negotiate a disarmament agreement. Could the reason be that the Democrats think the mission may be doomed to failure anyhow and they want later to be able to criticize that failure and make partisan capital of it? They wouldn't be able to do so if they happened to have participated in the negotiations themselves.

Whatever the reason, it doesn't reveal a sense of statesmanship at a critical time. It seems to nullify the solemn pledges uttered by the Democrats in the 1956 campaign when they promised to co-operate with the Administration in the making of foreign policy and praised "bipartisanship" as really a Democratic party virtue. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, June 18 (AP)—The men who like to help the women with their home laundry chores look for a pickup in sales of washers and dryers this fall.

They base this hope on a recent increase in orders by distributors, doubly welcome after discouraging results in the first four months of the year.

And the appliance makers hope that a fairly widespread rise in prices for the fall line won't wither the seedling of revival.

The makers also are counting on new versions of the washer-dryer combination to overcome some of the troubles housewives have had in washing garments made of many kinds of fibers.

Ordering Old Type

Fred Maytag II, president of the Maytag Co. of Newton, Iowa, reports that, strangely, much of the pickup in orders he has noted in the last three weeks has been for the old fashioned wringer type of washer—although this machine has been taking an increasingly smaller share of the market in recent years.

He admits that sales of dryers may be slow this summer. But he thinks the rebound in the fall will be sharp because "the return of bad weather always makes the housewife think of buying a dryer."

The industry's bad start this year came on the heels of its biggest production year. In 1956 the home laundry business, was booming. And many of its products were sold on time. Spokesmen admit now they probably over produced.

Dealers complained that big stocks at the end of last year led to price cutting which trimmed profit margins to the vanishing point.

There have been casualties in the industry since the war and the number of firms making home laundry equipment now is down to around 25. There have also been sales and mergers.

Avco Manufacturing sold its Bendix line to Philco. A three-way merger brought out Whirlpool Corp. as the survivor.

Living on Inventories

This year dealers and distributors have been reported living in large part on inventories. Manufacturers figure this phase is about over—hence the pickup in orders.

But in the first quarter of the year the American Home Laundry Manufacturers reported that sales of washers slid 22 per cent below those of the same period in 1956, dryer sales were down 20 per cent and ironer sales down 20 per cent.

Faced with slipping sales, some of the makers nevertheless are raising prices. Westinghouse Electric has just upped the price of its one model now in production by five per cent and says some others to be introduced in the fall will be 8 per cent higher.

General Electric's fall line will be up by 4 to 7 per cent, although in April it cut the price of one combination washer-dryer by $25 at retail. GE is also bringing out a new dryer in the fall which it says will have an automatic de-wrinkler to save the homemaker from having to press many synthetic fibered garments.

The replacement market is a growing thing, Maytag says, adding that perhaps the combination washer-dryer will prove to be the new shot in the arm for the industry, as the automatic washer was a few years back.

With repayments of instalment loans mounting, the consumer may be in position to buy newer gadgets this fall—Maytag and the other makers hope. So Maytag is recalling 235 production workers laid off at the Newton plant in April.

Questions -- Answers

Q—What is the record for cold in which men have survived?

A—Ninety below zero recorded in Siberia in 1933. The 18 Americans at the South Pole came within a degree of that mark April 2, 1957, when they reported minus 89.

Q—In how many ring contests did Joe Louis engage?

A—Seventy-one, exclusive of exhibition bouts during World War II.

Q—How high is the birth rate in Communist China?

A—Twenty-five thousand a day.

ILGWU Ratifies Contract

Sayre, Pa., June 18 (AP)—The 500 members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union at the Blue Swan Knitting Mills here have ratified a new contract ending a strike of 11 days. The union last night approved the new agreement which calls for immediate wage increases of eight cents an hour. The three-year contract also provides for another increase of two cents an hour next year. The union also won the right to re-open wage talks after one year if increases above those granted in the contract were given to the textile industry generally.

Jaynecees Show Features Latest In Fashions

Woodstock, June 17—The latest in fashions were presented at the Jaynecees fashion show held Saturday afternoon in Woodstock Town Hall.

The show for the benefit of the Girl Scout campership was announced by Miss Lucille Haley.

The children, who modeled sports clothes, swim outfits, and dress-up clothes were a highlight of the show. They were Pamela Pearce, Stephanie and Tom Graham, Lynn Baccari, Steve and Jim Summers and Jeannine Fallon.

Miss Haley said that the show hoped to acquaint new residents with the styles offered by the local shops. She explained also that she was a sister of the president, and another sister Miss Bonnie Hartner was a model.

In addition to the perennial classics and country club ensembles, there were items for special occasions, a sports car coat in turquoise worn with a striped T-shirt and black tapered pants; there was the Claire McCordie "Durable dress" which this year is slim with a sash that wraps and wraps. There were sports ensembles for every taste with shorts, skirts and shirts in various combinations.

For informal wear there was a lovely full skirt with an arresting watermelon print, worn with a soft green blouse, and a handsome Indian Madras dress in brilliant exotic shades of green. The new geometric prints were also included, cool yet effective for summer wear. Much polished cotton was also shown so indispensable for the dog days ahead.

The other models were Mrs. Robert Hastie, Jaynecees president; Mrs. Roger Cashdollar, Mrs. Telford A. Graham, Mrs. Arthur Hanson, Mrs. Gerald McCabe and Mrs. Philip Pearce. Mrs. Dwight Bellinger was coordinator of the show, Mrs. Richard Breen played the background music. Also assisting were Mrs. Douglas Cammann, Mrs. Chester Baccari, Mrs. Margaret Glass and Ernie Levins.

Shops participating were Bonnie's, Elaine Charles, Hilda Lightstone, The Little Shop, Rosalind Shop and Robert John Leather Shop.

Schimmerling Cantata Premiere's in Vienna

Woodstock, June 17—A cantata for chorus, "Cantus Contra Bella," with orchestra, brass solo and organ by H. A. Schimmerling, Woodstock composer, pianist and teacher at the Woodstock School, will have its premiere on June 29, in the Grosser Konzerthaus Saal in Vienna, Austria.

The composer was commissioned to write this work for the Vienna Music Festival by the prominent Austrian writer Joseph Luitpold who is the author of the lyrics of the cantata. David Couzyn, a new singing star from South Africa, who recently scored a huge success in London's Albert Hall, will perform the solo part, Franz Eybner will be the organist and Hubert Hoppel, a young Viennese conductor, will direct the performance. The composition has 11 sections, some of them are "heterotonal" which means that two or three distinct tonalities are used simultaneously. Joseph Luitpold, the author, and Schimmerling, the composer, is a team of long standing. Their previous works include "The Songs of the Rolling Globe," "The Ballad of the Golden Threshold" and "Humphrey Potter," all of them published and frequently performed on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean.

New Concord, Ohio, June 18 (AP)—Delegates to the 99th general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America begin working out details now for the denomination's merger with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America May 28, 1958. The assembly voted in favor of the merger Friday despite substantial minority opposition. Once the vote was over, however, opposition leaders said they would work to put the merger into effect as smoothly as possible.

Car Inventories Mount, Factories Tighten Output

Detroit, June 18 (AP)—Dealer inventories of new passenger cars are mounting again and factory reaction is a tighter rein on output. Only Chrysler Corp. is running contrary to the industry's downward production trend.

Automotive news reported Monday that on June 1 dealers had on hand, in storage or in transit from the factories 792,425 cars. This compared with 798,902 units of more than 55,200 units over the total counted on May 1 of this year.

The field stock increase obviously reflected a sales volume somewhat lower than had been expected. The total of unsold new cars still was substantially below the record-smashing total of almost 904,000 cars in dealers' hands on March 1 last year.

Sales Efforts Stepped Up

Last year, following the accumulation of the record-breaking stocks of new cars, the auto makers sharply reduced output while retail sales efforts were intensified. The combined manufacturer-dealer efforts reduced the inventories to approximately 278,000 units on last Nov. 1, nominally the start of the new model car year.

The current inventory increase followed a modest decline from April 1 to May 1. It came in the face of a decline in production during May as compared with the preceding month. The industry built 549,744 cars in April. In May it built 531,727. So far in June it has built about 256,000 units.

The stocks of cars now on hand obviously preclude any substantial rise in production during the weeks immediately ahead. At their present level the dealer inventories represent approximately a six weeks' supply of cars. A four-weeks' supply is considered normal.

It still appears probable the industry will come to the halfway point of 1957 with total passenger car assemblies of approximately 3,400,000 and a retail delivery total of close to three million units.

But the production and retail sales prospects for the year's July-August-September quarter are not likely to match the average of the first half of 1957. Indications are that if dealer inventories are to be reduced to manageable proportions by the beginning of the 1958 model year there will have to be cutbacks at the assembly line level comparable to those that marked the third quarter of 1956.

To some extent there will be a production cut automatically with retooling late in the third quarter for new model changeovers. Cutbacks also will result from shutdowns in midsummer for inventory purposes which will be announced by some of the car makers.

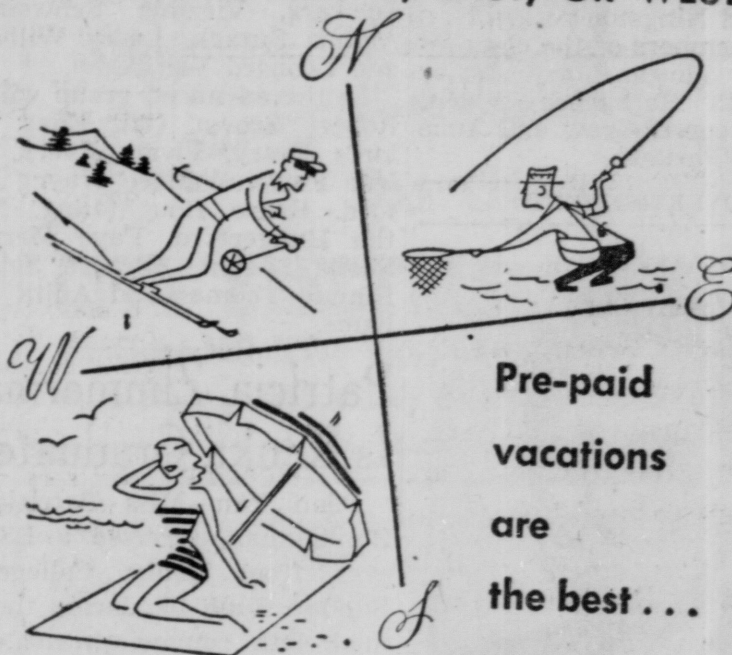

Such inventory shutdowns are not unusual, although when demand is high they frequently are combined with the model changeover shutdowns. So far as now can be learned there is no plan by any car maker to wind up his 1957 model year more than a week or two earlier than usual.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST
(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

TOOTING CAR HORN

Dear Mrs. Post: We recently bought a house in a very nice section of this city. Our neighbors seem to be very well-mannered except in one respect. Whenever a child is to be picked up for transportation to school or a woman for a club meeting, the driver of the car sits out in front of the house and honks the horn. It makes no difference if it is nine in the morning or nine at night. It seems I no more than get my children down for a nap when they are aroused by honking horns. Ever since I was a child I was taught that it was very bad manners to honk a horn to summon anyone. Perhaps in the rush of the present day this rule is now obsolete, and honking a horn is acceptable. I would appreciate your comments.

Answer: On occasion, a short toot of the horn is excusable, but to make a practice of doing this is not only very disturbing to others but very bad manners as well.

A Second-Hand Obligation

Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a luncheon recently given for an out-of-town guest. The hostess was not a friend of mine, although I have known her casually for some time. The guest of honor was a relative of mine. I would like to know if I am obligated to the hostess in any way for this invitation. I am very anxious to know the correct thing to do.

Answer: There is no definite obligation, but if you can invite her to a party of some sort at your house it would be a courteous thing to do.

Traveling in Shorts

Dear Mrs. Post: Our high-school senior class is going by chartered bus to a large city for a three-day holiday—a distance of approximately three hundred miles from here. Would it be proper for the girls to wear Bermuda shorts on the bus?

Answer: I am sorry, but I really cannot approve of such dress as being in good taste.

Mrs. Post's leaflet E-16, "Tables Rules of Importance," describes how to eat lobster, soup in cups, cheese and baked potato. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

New Floor Care

Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors.

Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt.

Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Ellenville Festival Features Danish Ballet; Also Offers Madama Butterfly

The eyes of the music world once again centers this summer on the Catskills where the Empire State Music Festival launches its third season of concerts, operas, ballets and music-dramas on July 4. The site of the festival is at Ellenville, heart of the Rip Van Winkle country. The colorful music tent to which upwards of 65,000 music lovers are drawn each summer is located atop the picturesque Shawangunk Mountains that oversees valleys, dales, brooks and rivers. This year's event will run for four weeks, terminating on Sunday, July 28.

The Festival, which will run for four weeks, opens on Thursday, July 4 with Igor Markevitch leading the Symphony of the Air in Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. This program will be repeated on Sunday afternoon, July 7.

The Royal Danish Ballet, eight of whose soloists make their debut appearance at the Empire State Music Festival in Ellenville, N. Y., on Friday evening, July 5, for an engagement of three performances, today announced its repertoire.

The opening bill on July 5 will be an all Tchaikovsky one and includes "Swan Lake," "Design With Strings," and "Aurora's Wedding."

A new ballet, "Bergensiana," will highlight Saturday night's offering, which includes also "Napoli," "Pierrot and Pierrette," "Flower Festival" and excerpts from "Coppelia." On Sunday night "Aurora's Wedding" will be repeated with

"Bergensiana," "The Flower Festival" and "Coppelia."

The soloists are Inge Sand, Kirsten Ralov, Ruth Andersen, Kirsten Petersen, Fredbjorn Bjornsson, Stanley Williams, Verner Andersen and Ole Fatum. Robert Zeller, the musical director of the ballet, will be on the podium to conduct the Symphony of the Air. The artistic direction of the company is credited to Mr. Zeller and Inge Sand.

Puccini's Opera, "Madama Butterfly," will be offered as a full stage production on Thursday, July 25 and Saturday July 27. Elaine Malbin will sing the title role and David Poleri will play Lt. Pinkerton.

Metropolitan Opera Conductor Fausto Cleva will direct the Symphony of the Air in the Puccini work. The staging will be done by Desiree Defrere.

Mr. Forest also announced that Virginia Copeland has been engaged to sing the title role of "Elektra" under the baton of Laszlo Halasz. Others in the cast include Elizabeth Hoengen as Klytemnestra, Ellen Faull as Chrysothemis, Marcello di Giovanni as Aegist, and Michael Bondon as Orestes. The Richard Strauss opera, also a full stage production, is scheduled for July 11, with repeat performances on July 13 and July 19.

Suggestion Strong Heredity Possible Sclerosis Factor

Atlantic City, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Heredity has been suggested as one possible factor in causing multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Roland P. Mackay of Chi-

Don't Use Phone To Headquarters, Matthews Asks

Deputy Fire Chief George D. Matthews today issued notice to the public and to members of volunteer fire companies that telephone calls should not be made to fire headquarters immediately after an alarm.

Lines were jammed last night after the alarm for the fire at the Zwick & Schwartz building, 36 O'Neil street, and the many calls hampered the work of the dispatcher.

Police headquarters experienced similar difficulty in dispatching the many patrolmen needed at the scene, and was delayed in reaching some of the officers.

It was emphasized that such calls could be especially costly in the event of the urgent need of ambulances and doctors at a fire or any similar emergency.

Two Arabs Killed

Gaza, June 18 (AP)—Headquarters of the UN Emergency Force announced today that a UNEF patrol shot and killed two Arabs when they approached the Demarcation Line separating the Gaza Strip from Israel. The announcement said a four-man patrol saw six Arabs moving toward the frontier southeast of the Gaza Strip town of Beit Hanoun. When the patrol challenged the men to stop, they threw a knife at them. The patrol opened fire, killing two Arabs in Khaki uniform. A third was taken into custody and the other three fled.

Forms New Cabinet

Baghdad, Iraq, June 18 (AP)—Former Premier Ali Jawdat today was reported to have completed formation of a new cabinet to succeed the government of strongman Nuri Said. Informal sources said the Jawdat cabinet would try to better relations between Iraq and Egypt as a move toward Arab unity.

cago and Dr. Ntinous C. Myrianthopoulos of Minneapolis reported on 2½ years of research on multiple sclerosis in twins to the 82nd annual meeting of the American Neurological Assn. yesterday.

Dr. Mackay said "there is a strong suggestion—but not final proof—that a hereditary factor in addition to other environmental factors plays a role in the etiology (cause) of multiple sclerosis."

Other Factors Unknown

He quickly added, however, that although a person may have inherited a "vulnerability" to the disease, other factors appear necessary for its development. He said these other factors are presently unknown.

Dr. Mackay reported that in research on 54 sets of twins and 1,112 relatives the proportion of MS among relatives "appears to be much greater than the proportion in the general population."

Either one or both of the twins used in the research had multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Mackay said that 11 relatives definitely had MS, while seven had symptoms suggesting it.

No Definite Conclusion

He said research on the hereditary factor is still too fragmentary to allow a definite conclusion and added:

"It should be pointed out that although a person may have in his body the genetic vulnerability of MS he may never develop the disease unless he may never be affected by the environmental factors."

Multiple sclerosis normally attacks about one in every 2,000 persons, usually young people. It affects the brain and spinal cord, causing such maladies as weakness, incoordination and loss of sensation. It is sometimes fatal.

Dr. Mackay is professor of neurology at the University of Illinois School of Medicine, while Dr. Myrianthopoulos is a research associate in the Dight Institute of Human Genetics of the University of Minnesota.

Their report came 10 days after Miss Rose Ichelson, a Philadelphia researcher, said she had isolated the micro-organism believed the probable cause of multiple sclerosis.

Honor Retiring Napanoch Man

Edwin C. Chase, principal of Napanoch School for the past 34 years, who has announced his retirement, was honored at a buffet luncheon recently at Shanley's Hotel.

Mr. Chase is retiring from teaching after 51 years of service which included appointments in Frost Valley, Slide Mountain, Leibhardt, Chichester, Big Indian, Pine Hill and Napanoch.

Over 100 Attend More than 100 friends attended the affair which was conducted by the central school district board of education and the teacher's association.

Short talks were given by the school administrators and District Superintendent L. J. Roosa.

Miles Furman, president of the board of education presented Mr. Chase with a complete fishing outfit as a gift of appreciation from the board.

Forst Agrees

by Corporation Counsel James A. Abernethy when Referee Heffernan inquired for the record what would happen if compliance was not met.

Under the stipulation the company has 90 days to comply with recommendations made by Mr. Kiewit.

Department Brings Action The action was one for abatement of smoke and soot emanating from complaints of the Kingston Fire Department.

The fire department began the action when numerous complaints were received from residents of the seventh ward who complained of the smoke, soot and fly ash which settled over the neighborhood.

Alderman Frank Sass of the seventh ward had several witnesses present in support of the complaint to testify that the soot falling in the area could be traced to the Forst plant.

Announces Agreement Monday afternoon when the case was moved before Referee Heffernan, Corporation Counsel James A. Abernethy announced that an agreement had been reached and he proceeded to read into the court record a stipulation under which the company agreed to comply with the recommendations of Engineer Kiewit.

John L. Larkin appeared for the Forst Company and consented to the stipulation.

Baxter Defeats

Sullivan county, and in Kingston for Ulster county.

While Mayer was business agent of Local 17 the Cannonsville reservoir tunnel contract in Sullivan county at Lowe's Corners was picketed and for several days just prior to the election feeling ran high among labor groups. The picketing was endorsed by some union memberships and others declined to join in the strike.

At a meeting of delegates of the Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council last week election of Mayer was advocated. Representatives of 30 union locals in the council attended the session, it was stated. These included spokesmen for 22 locals of the carpenters' union; two locals of electricians; one representative each of the plumbers, painters, iron workers and operating engineers unions.

Mayer has maintained that while he was business agent for Local 17 he was interested only in securing a contract beneficial to the workmen.

During the controversy it was stated charges were made that large sums of money might be involved in "payoffs" to locals by contractors to unions. This added fuel on the labor dispute and it was suggested if such matters were known to exist, they should be referred to the district attorney for investigation.

A project manager for the contractor on water works projects in Sullivan and Delaware counties branded as "an absolute untruth" the statement Mayer allegedly made about a possible payoff on the job. He invited an inspection of the books "by any authorized investigator."

Sheriff Bell Gets Publicity in 'Patrol'

The "Sheriff's Patrol," monthly publication of the New York State Sheriff's Association, carried a page one picture of Ulster County Sheriff Claude Bell with the caption, "Meet Sheriff Bell of Ulster County."

The paper points out in a brief thumbnail sketch of Sheriff Bell's career that he was formerly supervisor of the town of Olive, having first been elected to that office in 1945. Sheriff Bell took office as sheriff last January 1.

Orders Job Back Albany, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice today ordered Col. Charles E. Walsh, a Republican, restored to the $11,500-a-year state job from which he was fired by the Hariman administration. Walsh, of suburban Delmar, was appointed July 14, 1947, as assistant superintendent for operations and maintenance in the State Public Works Department. He was fired Sept. 30, 1955, Walsh, a World War 2 veteran, since has been appointed manager of the Albany regional office of the Veterans Administration.

Flames Reached the loading platform and its canopy roof, and when firemen arrived, an entire side of the building and roof were involved, Deputy Chief Matthews said. It had burned through loading doors and windows.

The fire swept over the large main room off the loading platform and contents in and near it were destroyed.

Owner Lauds Men Mr. Schwartz, who today said that business was able to continue through use of the garage, praised the work of the fire and police departments and the cooperation of utility company employees.

"I am proud of the fire and police departments and the utility men," their work and co-operation was "terrific and incredible," he said. He also thanked the many people who called and offered assistance in any way in which they could help.

The police department was called upon for heavy mobilization because of interference at the scene and hampering traffic conditions. Officers William Snyder, Harry Tempelaar, Gilbert Gray and Everett Emmick were first dispatched to the scene, and Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy, later ordered others out.

Officers Called to Duty Called in by Lt. William Messing and Officer Louis Sapp were Officers James Burns, Ernest Bartoff, William Hanley, Frank Monte, Leonard Ellsworth, Francis Buchanan, Harold DeGraff, Joseph Keller, Gerard McCloskey, Albert Hutton, Sheldon O'Rourke, Charles McCullough and George Carpozis.

Cordis Hose Company covered at Central station, Rapid Hose Company at Cornell, and Excelsior at Wiltwyck. The alarms also mobilized Union and Twaitskill and the Wiltwyck and Wicks volunteers.

Flames Sweep Upward The fire appeared to have swept upward through a large area of the forward part of the three-story structure, which is faced with asphalt shingles. Pump streams from engines 1, 2, 3 and 4 were used on the blaze. The fire was kept from spreading to a one-story concrete block structure next to the main building.

Office equipment and considerable other contents of the building were removed before they were damaged, but the majority of perishable produce was lost.

The box cars were on a siding of the mountain branch of the New York Central and were close to the loading platform and its canopy roof.

Deputy Matthews report indicated suspicion that the fire was of incendiary origin. It apparently had spread rapidly from the hay on the floor of the car.

Vagrants Suspected Authorities said a vagrant was found sleeping under one of the box cars when firemen arrived. He and another, who, it was believed, had been inside the empty car, were questioned by police this morning, and it was indicated they were due for further questioning this afternoon.

The cars were not demolished, but were badly damaged inside and on the outside.

Firemen said it was a hot and stubborn fire to fight.

Fire at Electrol A telephone call at 2:07 a. m. today was for a fire in a transformer unit in Electrol, Inc., 85 Grand street, Wiltwyck station and the Wicks Company responded. The unit was removed from the building and the blaze extinguished.

Fire Chief James M. Brett, has been on vacation since early in the month.

Two Men Hurt In 1-Car Mishap

Two men were treated at Kingston Hospital early this morning for minor injuries suffered in a one-car mishap about midnight on the Ulster Landing road.

A third man, a member of the East Kingston Volunteer Fire Department, was admitted to Benedictine Hospital later this morning with a fractured foot suffered in extinguishing a fire which completely destroyed the vehicle.

Treated at Kingston Hospital and released were Joseph Ausanio and Ralph Garafalo, both of Kingston.

Admitted to Benedictine Hospital was James Costello of East Kingston. His condition was reported good. Details as to how he injured his foot were not immediately available.

It was reported that Ausanio was operating his 1957 sedan along the Ulster Landing road shortly before midnight when it went out of control, left the road and struck "a couple of trees."

The vehicle burst into flames but both men managed to escape before they were burned, it was said.

The East Kingston Volunteer Fire Department dispatched a tanker and pumper. Approximately 100 volunteers rushed to the scene.

Central and Wicks answered the telephone call, and two alarms drew out all remaining units. The recall was at 2:10 a. m.

The boxcar in which the fire started was one of two on a siding at the loading platform. Hay covered the floor of the car, which was otherwise empty. The other one was loaded with potatoes. Both were badly damaged.

Entire Side Burning Flames reached the loading platform and its canopy roof, and when firemen arrived, an entire side of the building and roof were involved, Deputy Chief Matthews said. It had burned through loading doors and windows.

Late Bulletin

Rights Bill Passes

Washington, June 18 (AP)—The House today passed President Eisenhower's civil rights bill.

Just before final passage, the House defeated, 251-158, the southern bloc's fourth and final attempt to drive a jury trial amendment into the measure. The vote insured passage of the bill essentially in the form Eisenhower recommended and the Republican, northern and western Democrats backing such legislation agreed on.

Three Near Falls Rescued in Night

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Three men were rescued by helicopter and private boat around midnight last night after a harrowing two hours in the Niagara river a mile above the cataract.

Two of the men were clinging to a rock; the third was in a 16-foot outboard motorboat.

Authorities said Dennis Miller, 36, and Thomas Sterling, 50, both of Niagara Falls, Ont., were cruising in the motorboat when the engine failed.

Miller fell overboard as the two were trying to fix it, they said, but was able to swim to a rock about 150 yards offshore.

The third man, Robert Bryan of this city, said he heard Miller's cries from the shore. Bryan, an employee of the Carborundum Co. nearby, swam to Miller's rock while other workers called police.

Miller and Bryan said they clung to the rock for nearly two hours. Later, Miller told authorities "I would have let go long ago if it hadn't been for him comforting me."

Sterling, in the boat, was taken in tow by a private motorboat while a two-place helicopter from the Air Force base here settled down near the rock to pick up Miller.

Bryan held on a while longer until the motorboat, with Sterling in tow, came by to pick him up.

Miller was hospitalized to be treated for exposure. His condition was reported as not serious. The others were unhurt.

School Window Shot Out, Probe Is Made A window in the new Post Ewen School was shot out sometime Monday afternoon or night, according to a report in the Ulster county sheriff's office.

Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg said the office had received a call from Principal Robert Graves this morning reporting the incident.

Mr. Graves told the undersheriff that the slug, from a .22 caliber rifle, had been recovered.

Mr. Vredenburg said the case was being investigated.

Ardonia Man Still Critical at Hospital

The condition of William Hoffman, 43, of Ardonia, who suffered injuries early Sunday morning in a one-car mishap, was listed as "apparently critical" this morning by Kingston Hospital authorities.

Hoffman suffered a compound fracture of the jaw, a fractured left leg, head and internal injuries, it was reported by Highland state police.

Troopers said he was proceeding south on Route 32 half a mile south of New Paltz when his 1949 sedan left the highway and smashed head-on into a tree.

Miller fell overboard as the two were trying to fix it, they said, but was able to swim to a rock about 150 yards offshore.

PITCHING

Danny McDevitt, Dodgers—Struck out 11, spaced seven hits for a 7-2, complete game victory over Redlegs in major league debut.

HITTING

Gene Freese, Pirates—Had four hits in four trips and triggered a winning four-run rally in the ninth with his second double for 7-5 victory over Braves.

Teamwork

Minnesota game wardens are teaming up to catch more game and fish violators. Last year they made 3,692 arrests, compared with 3,110 the year before. The game and fish division says wardens teamwork, rather than more arrests, has resulted in more arrests.

Stuhler Team Wins Pro-Am; George Hughes Ties With 69

Frank Stuhler of the Antlers (Amsterdam) and his partner, Henry Hiscoc, won the Northeastern PGA Pro-Am tournament with a best ball 65 Monday at the Van Schaick Country Club at Cohoes.

Alex Gerlak and George Hughes, of The Twaalfskill Club, finished in sixth place with a net 68, but Hughes tied Stuhler for low medal honors with a one-under-par 69.

Al Schacht Out, Colonials Seek Kelly

Dodger Office To Give Word On Famed Clown Saugerties Dutchmen In Wednesday Opener

Al Schacht, the Clown Prince of baseball, has cancelled his appearance because of death in the family, but Manager Fred Davi of the Kingston Colonials was frantically pulling wires today hoping to land the equally famous Emmett Kelly for Wednesday night's New York-New Jersey League opener at Dietz Stadium.

The opposition will be furnished by the Saugerties Dutchmen and Clark Mains, fresh from a 4-hit, 4-0 triumph over Staatsburg.

Schacht cancelled out late yesterday because of the death of his mother. He sent a wire of regret to Manager Davi and promised to give him a later date for free.

Davi quickly contacted Harold Parrott, business manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, in an effort to get Kelly as a substitute. Kelly, of course, is the world famous circus clown who joined the Dodgers this season.

Parrott sympathetic to Davi's plight and said he would try to change Kelly's schedule in order to bring him to Kingston.

Kelly works steadily at Ebbets Field during the Dodger home stands, but tours the Brooklyn farm system when the Brooks are on the road.

The Colonials lost their opener to the Brooklyn Dodgers 8-5, a blow which the metropolitan club by a wide margin. Several errors ruined the locals, who described the playing field at Brooklyn as the worst in the league.

Saugerties is expected to start Mains, but Manager Joe Benjamin may come up with a surprise.

3 Leaders In NL Race

National Little League is snarled in a three-way tie for first place today.

Canfield Supply Tigers moved into a deadlock with the Indians and Braves by edging cellar-dwelling Hiltabrant Pirates, 7-5, yesterday. All three clubs possess 5-2 marks.

Tigers needed three pitchers—Hank Houghtaling, Bud Bunt and Herb Wolfe—to still Bucs who rallied in the late innings. Houghtaling got the win. The trio allowed five hits, all singles.

Mike McGowan hurled a creditable six-hitter, but half the blows were for extra bases. Len McAndrew and Bud Jablonski hit doubles and Joe Schabot a triple. McGowan fanned eight and walked three.

Judy Frank Tied For Medal Honors

Glenhead, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Mrs. Philip Cudone of Montclair, N. J., tied defending champion Judy Frank of Purchase, N. Y., for the medalist honors in the qualifying round of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. championship yesterday.

Each posted 79's over the 6,146-yard Glenhead Country Club course.

Mrs. Marge Mason of Ridgewood, N. J., holder of the New Jersey medal crown, had an 82 to tie Mrs. John F. Newman of Glenhead for third place.

Mrs. Saul Weinsier of Great Neck, N. Y., runner up in the Long Island championship last week, was fifth with 83.

Charlotte De Cozen of Montclair, N. J., shared sixth place with Mrs. Mortimer May of Great River, the 1957 Long Island Champion, and Mrs. William R. Kirkland of Locust Valley, a former district champion.

Brown, Zulueta Await Title Bout

Denver, June 18 (AP)—Champion Joe Brown and Orlando Zulueta loafed today after three weeks of stiff training for their lightweight title fight tomorrow night.

The scheduled 15-round bout in the Denver Coliseum will be televised nationally (ABC 10 p. m. EDT).

Brown, 30-year-old titleholder from Houston, Tex., and Zulueta, 28, of Cuba, will weigh in tomorrow at the Coliseum.

For the benefit of sportswriters they stepped on the scales yesterday at the windup of their training grind.

Brown was right on the limit—135 pounds. Zulueta weighed 134 1/2.

Local Archers Host State Shoot

Fifty archers participated in the state-sponsored spring shoot Sunday held at the Kingston Archery Club.

Van Wagner took high score honors with 690. Bill Sheley of Mohawk was the expert 'B' winner with 639.

Other winners included: Bowman Class—Clinton Hawes. Archer Division—Ed Rhymer. Novice—Kenneth La Casse. Women's Division—Rose Rhymer (330).

Runnerup to Hawes was Joe Heidkamp and to Rose Rhymer, Ruth Secor on 312.

Since several of the participants were not members of the state organization, a local club shoot was run concurrently with the state shoot. Winners included Gus Stopski, and Jack Parnett of Newburgh, Harvey Whitlow of Newburgh and Andy Scarcelli of Saugerties.

Catcher Clint Courtney, of the Washington Senators, attempted to steal a base five times in 1926. He was caught each time.

Martinez Eyes Basilio After Beating Gavilan

Jersey City, N. J., June 18 (AP)—Vince Martinez had his second straight victory over ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan today and a sharper desire to joust with the current ruler, Carmen Basilio in September.

He'll probably have to settle for an outdoor fight in Newark, N. J. in August against either Peter Waterman, the British 147-pound titlist or Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans speed-bow.

"That $105,000 offer to Basilio for a title shot in Ruppert Stadium in Newark still goes," said Bill Daly, Martinez' manager, after his meaty ticket whacked out a decisive 10-round decision over Gavilan last night.

Import Waterman

"If we can't get Basilio then we'll try and import Waterman, who split in two fights with Gavilan," added Daly.

Basilio, a spectator at the non-teletext Roosevelt Stadium fight on a steaming hot night, said the Jersey offer would have to go behind bids by the International Boxing Club.

Carmen said he has set a Monday deadline for middleweight champ Sugar Ray Robinson to sign for a fight with him in September.

Referee Paul Cavalier, the only official, had Martinez the winner, 7-3 in rounds. He awarded the Cuban the first, fifth and seventh. In their last fight on Feb. 26 in Newark, referee Joe Harrison scored it 6-3-1 for Vince.

Gavilan weighed 147 1/2, Martinez 150 1/2.

Broskie, Gross Tops in Bowlero

Harold Broskie (555) and Evelyn Gross (513) led Bowlero Summer mixed league keggers last night. Broskie put together a string of 204-183-168. Mrs. Gross had 168-142-203.

Marie Bechtold shot 483, Anna Manfro 482, Louise Jordan 490, Celeste Estenes 460, Lucille Corrado 495, Fred Di Bella 549.

Pat and Georges Drop to Second

Shannon's Grill regained first place in the City Softball League yesterday, thanks to some late inning hitting heroics by Steve Murphy in an eight-inning, 13-12 squeaker over Wimpys.

Murphy's homer tied the score at 10-10 in regulation in the bottom of the seventh and his single in the eighth was the key blow in a counter rally of three runs. Wimpys scored twice in the first extra inning. Brandt homered for Wimpys.

Chester Emile's Ben Freer stopped Pat and Georges with six hits, 5-2, tumbling them into second place. Frank Coulard was the losing pitcher.

Lumberjacks Win

Mike Boyle scattered nine Subway Grill hits to give Miron Lumber a 5-3 victory.

Hilltop Rest snatched a 5-4 thriller from Prospect Dairy, scoring twice in the bottom of the seventh. A clutch single by Cliff Davis and Lee Hooker's heads-up base running sparked the Hilltop win. Frank Boyce,

Dodger Hill Staff Gets Needed Aid From McDevitt

The Associated Press

Brooklyn's pitching staff, trouble free just a couple of weeks ago but a battered bunch of late, may have found an added starter to take up the slack in Danny McDevitt—a kid southpaw who couldn't make the grade in Class A ball a year ago.

The Dodgers, who skidded from the National League lead to fifth place while winning only two of their last 10 games, threw the 24-year-old lefty against Cincinnati last night and came off with a 7-2 victory as they started their second western invasion of the season.

McDevitt, fresh from St. Paul, struck out 11, spaced seven hits and had only infrequent troubles while gaining a complete game in his major league debut.

Dodgers Fourth

The victory pushed the Brooks up to fourth, while the Redlegs slipped from third to fifth, as the perplexing Pittsburgh Pirates defeated first place Milwaukee 7-5 with four ninth-inning runs in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

Milwaukee now has but a single game lead over St. Louis, with Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati all two games back. There's a two percentage point gap between the Phils and Dodgers, and the Dodgers and the Redlegs.

McDevitt, a 5-11 175 pounder born in New York but now a Greenwood, Miss., resident, started out with Macin in the Sally League last season, but was sent down to Cedar Rapids of the Class B Three-I-League with Halpin, rf-2b .3 0 1 1

American Legion Trips Rotary in BRL, 15-5

A sad Little League story is being written these days in the Town of Cairo where a financially-distressed small fry circuit is threatened with extinction.

We never heard of a Little League folding, because of financial distress and this could be the first time it ever happened. But it proves that things that "just can't happen" often do.

The Cairo Little League hasn't folded yet and pressure is being exerted on parents, business people and others to keep the league going.

The league president, David McNulty, is quoted as saying the league spent approximately $1,000 this year for uniforms, equipment and signs and in getting the LL park in good playing condition.

"Today we need about $600 to meet our debts," he said. "We sent out letters to all parents of Little Leaguers and to date have received responses from only 18 of them. This is a very poor percentage and unless we get some immediate financial assistance, we will be forced to disband the league."

This would be a baseball tragedy, if it happened. The league already has been forced to disband its minor league system. If no more than 18 of a potential 60 parents are interested in providing wholesome recreation for their own kids, then you can't expect outsiders to knock their brains out trying to keep a league alive. The greater shame belongs to the parents.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

It's hotter than the doors of Hades at the moment, but here on the desk is a release from Madison Square Garden, proclaiming that five conference champions—plus Notre Dame, Navy, Dayton et cetera—will be among 28 visiting teams for the 24th consecutive collegiate basketball season at the Garden. . . . Phoebe. . . . Mike Marchuk, the saxophone virtuoso, has returned from Denver, Colorado, where it couldn't have been as hot as it is here. . . . William Schwarz of Stone Ridge has earned his varsity letter at Potsdam State Teacher college. . . . Wesley F. (Bo) Gill, the golf course builder who sports edits the Newburgh News in his spare time, has ceased operations during the heat wave. . . . Richard Davidson of Ellenville was manager of the Ithaca College varsity track team which recently completed its season.

Wonder if the Babe Ruth League ever had a youngster make a debut like Charlie Blanschan with three home runs? It would be worth checking. . . . When you consider the up-to-date performances of Duke Snider and Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn Dodgers aren't doing too badly. . . . So, the Yankees got rid of Billy Martin to cleanse the atmosphere and influence around Mickey Mantle? . . . If the Yankees don't win the 1957 pennant, don't be surprised if Casey Stengel packs his gear and heads west toward his oil wells. . . . Billy Martin was his boy, but Billy boy was always low man on George Weiss' totem pole. And it's Weiss, not Stengel, who make the final decision on personnel changes. We hope Billy hits a ton against his old teammates. . . . Pardon the pun, but didn't Giant fans see red when Schoendienst was traded to the pennant-bound Milwaukee Braves? . . . The best trade the Giants could have made was, as one irate fan proposed, a package deal of Rigney and $100,000 to the National Broadcasting Company for Leo Durocher.

City Baseball League makes a belated getaway at Dietz Stadium tonight. Tomorrow night it's the Kingston Colonials in their New York-New Jersey League debut. Meanwhile the Babe Ruth League is moving along in its second week of action. At the risk of sounding impertinent, we have to ask: What about a scoreboard at Dietz Stadium? With baseball scheduled almost every night in the week at the uptown park, we think the erection of a scoreboard has been justified. We think it ridiculous and absurd to charge admission and take up collections at games while keeping the fans in the dark about the progress of the contest. If there is no money available for such a project, we propose the three organizations—Babe Ruth League, City League and Kingston Colonials—pool their resources and erect a scoreboard. It is ridiculous to have three baseball organizations operating at the stadium without a scoreboard.

Corkery Slams In Losing Cause

Despite a grand slam home run by the Rotary's Terry Corkery, the American Legion won its second straight, 15-5 in the Babe Ruth League yesterday.

Corkery unloaded in the third inning off Mike Celuch to bring his club back from a 6-0 deficit. The Legion bounced back in the next round to get the four back and then coasted in.

Celuch, a 13-year old right-hander, was overcome by the sweltering heat after Corkery's slam and had to give way to lefthander Ivan Gavin. Gavin stopped the Rotarians on two hits the rest of the way to preserve the victory for Celuch.

Playoff This Week

Dr. Harris, Burt Haver Tie in President's Cup

Webb-Joseph Match Tonight

New Orleans, June 18 (AP)—

The middleweight division, one of boxing's most popular and crowded with promising contenders, lures another big gate here tonight when third-ranked Spider Webb of Chicago meets Charley Joseph of New Orleans.

Matchmaker Bonny Geigerman of the Louisiana Boxing Club said he expects a capacity crowd of slightly more than 9,000 and a gate of $20,000 for the 10-rounder at the Municipal Auditorium. It will not be televised or broadcast.

The 25-year-old Webb, former NCAA champion while at Idaho State and a member of Uncle Sam's Olympic team in 1952, has won 22 of 23 fights, 12 by knockouts.

For the 24-year-old Joseph, the bout tonight is a make or break affair since the fancy-boxing New Orleans native has his recent outings.

Joseph shows 38 victories, five losses and two draws.

TIDEWATER'S NEW REFINERY SURPASSES ALL OTHERS... FOR SIZE AND SCIENCE!

The Best Refinery

makes the Best Gasoline!

The world's most advanced refinery. The largest ever built from the ground up. Only Tidewater's new $200 million dollar Delaware Refinery can make its entire gasoline output 100 OCTANE PLUS! Here, exclusively in America, gasoline impurities are removed in the refinery—not in your car—by the world's largest extraction plant and hydrodesulphurizers. Here, too, vast "electronic brains" control the world's largest crude unit, fluid coker, catalytic cracker and reformer, and other record units. Only "Flying A" can give your car the world's purest, most uniformly powerful gasoline. Despite high sounding advertising claims of competition, remember: A gasoline can only be as good as the refinery that makes it.

TIPS IN FISHING FOR WALLEYES

BEST FISHING IS ON A MOON-LIT NIGHT, OVER SAND OR GRAVEL BARS EXTENDING FROM A POINT OF LAND INTO A LAKE. THAT'S WHEN AND WHERE THE LARGEST WALLEYES CRUISE IN SEARCH OF CRAWFISH, SOFT-SHELLED "CRAWFS" ESPECIALLY, AND MINNOWS. TRY THESE NATURAL BAITS, PLUGS AND SPIN-FISHING'S METAL LURES, NEAR OR BUMPING THE BOTTOM. FISH ROCKY SHORELINES, ALSO IN STREAMS, TRY POOLS BELOW WATERFALLS AND DAMS, AND DEEP ROCKY POOLS.

THE NEXT BEST FISHING IS FROM DAWN TO MID-MORNING, THEN MID-AFTERNOON TO NIGHT.

Engineers Group Family Picnic Set
The Mid-Hudson Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold its annual family outing Saturday at "Aberdeen Farms" Staatsburg.

They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fried, Aberdeen Farms is situated on the Pleasant Plains road. Many forms of recreation will be available, including swimming, boating, tennis, badminton, and others. Dinner will be served at 1 p. m. and will feature roast beef, baked ham, with all the usual side trimmings and refreshments.

James L. O'Neill suggests that those members and their families planning to attend arrive at the farm between 10:30 and 11 a. m. Reservations should be made through Picnic Chairman, Jack Sealey, IBM Research Laboratory.

In all, the two girls sold 66 boxes of cookies. The father kept his promise. He purchased 66 boxes—for $29.70.

OFFICE CAT

Whenever there is anyone present in your company who is timid about telling his or her age, here's a clever way of finding it out without them telling it:

Tell the person to write his age on a piece of paper. Tell him to multiply it by two. Then have him add five to that, and multiply the total by fifty. Tell him to subtract the number of days in the year (365) from that. Now have him count any change under a dollar in his pocket, and add that. Then ask him to tell you the total, and promise to tell him his correct age, and the amount of change, if his arithmetic is right.

When he gives you the total, mentally add 115. The total of that will give his age in the first two figures, and the amount of change in the latter two.

Ahavath Israel
Officers June 23

BEN MILLER

A festive evening for Sunday, June 23, beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the Synagogue of Congregation Ahavath Israel is planned on the occasion of its biennial installation of officers.

Ben Schecter, chairman and master of ceremonies, has arranged a full program to include a prominent speaker, entertainment and a buffet especially prepared by the Sisterhood.

New Officers

All members and friends of the Congregation are invited to attend the installation of the following officers:

Larry Jacobs, president; Aaron Klein, first vice president; Louis Siller, second vice president; Irving Reuben, financial secretary; Morris Nussbaum, recording secretary; Max Eckdick, treasurer.

Ben Miller, an active leader of educational, civic and Jewish affairs in Ellenville, will be the installing officer. Mr. Miller's ceaseless devotion to man and his community establishes him as a particularly worthy religious guide to the Synagogue's new officers. He is a former president of the Ellenville Zionist Organization of America, former president of Congregation Hebrew Ad Society, Empire State Zionist Region, Ellenville Hebrew School and Ellenville Noonday Club.

Koblenz to Speak

Another guest for the evening will be Edmund Koblenz, the principal speaker, whose record of affiliations after his graduation from Yale Law School includes past president of Temple Israel, Albany; past vice-president of Empire Zionist Region, and former assistant attorney general of the State of New York.

Appropriate ritual has been arranged and will be directed by Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein.

urday, 13 swimmers have been drowned.

Yesterday, the AP said, two teenagers in the Albany area collapsed and died of heart attacks brought on by the heat. One was playing golf, the other tennis.

Five persons were drowned while swimming yesterday. Robert J. Halligan, a 17-year-old high school senior, who was to have been graduated next Monday as salutatorian of his class, died of a heart attack on a tennis court at Green Island, Albany county. The golfer was identified as Francis J. Swantek Jr., 18, of Albany. Both deaths were blamed on the heat.

The drowning victims were: John Lucas, 21, of Rochester. John Lee Jackson, 8, of Moultrie, Ga.

Gary Warfield, 17, of Centerville, near East Branch.

William Willey, 15, of Schenectady.

Clifford Ackerman, 60, of White Plains.

The torrid weather in Albany also set a new record for the Capital City. The temperature there hit 94, two degrees above the previous record for the date which had stood since 1892. Elsewhere across the state, temperatures ranged from the high 80s into the 90s. The temperature at LaGuardia Field was 96.3.

In New York city, where the mercury climbed to 93, setting a new high for the year, the heat taxed the city's electrical power system causing Consolidated Edison Co., the private utility that supplies the city, to appeal for voluntary cutbacks in homes, offices, stores and factories. Thousands of air conditioners were switched on boosting the power load toward the breaking point.

Hit by the power overload were these:

Empire State Building stopped nonessential motors and pumps, cut elevator service.

The UN halted its plaza fountain and reduced lights.

Macy's Department store cut off spotlights in windows.

The Roxy Theater doused its big lobby chandelier.

Hearing Will
ward, chairman, alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk, and aldermen Samuel J. Perry, fifth ward, Frank Zakowski, fourth ward, and William K. Bodenweber, ninth ward.

One letter, read at the session, made a point for decontrol. It was from Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, USN, retired, and noted a loss of $438.17 in 1 1/2 years of renting a house on East O'Reilly street.

The two-story, single family, frame house of six rooms, bath, large attic and full basement he said, was in excellent condition, has hot and cold running water, and steam heat. It rents for $35 a month, he said.

Expenses included general upkeep, repairs, insurance and other items such as a new chimney. It was painted four times, the letter said, and the total of all items was $5,268.17, while total receipts was $4,830.

The letter was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Forestry Groups Make Area Visits

Members of the Forest Practice Board from Sullivan and Orange counties and representatives from the Ulster County Extension Service and the Division of Lands and Forests of the Conservation Department visited the basket factory of Favero & Blanc, Highland, the charcoal kiln of Joseph Rizzo, Marlboro, and the Clark woodlot at Latin-town, last week.

A meeting was held at the inn at the Old Fort in New Paltz. Tom Quick of Livingston Manor served as chairman of the event.

Discussion of the recent Gypsy Moth spray program, the recent spring forest fires and the new soil bank program was held.

Attending from Ulster county were Nelson Shultis of Wittenberg and William Tacorchick of Kingston.

Woerner to Pay $250, Probation Of 2 Years Set

William Woerner, 40 Murray street, who was charged with possession and operation of an unlicensed still, was in Federal Court Monday in New York city where Federal Judge Palmieri suspended imposition of any sentence, placed Woerner on two years probation and imposed a fine of $250. The fine may be paid any time during the period of probation.

Charles J. Saccoman appeared as counsel for defendant.

Woerner was convicted of the same offense in 1945 when he received a six-month jail sentence.

Revenue Agents from the Newburgh office last fall raided the home of Woerner and found a 25-gallon still in operation. They also confiscated about 22 gallons of "white moonshine" whiskey and 200 gallons of mash.

With the federal men at the time of the raid was Lt. Robert F. Murphy of the local police department, Detective Frank H. Sammons and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown. The still was being operated on a second floor. Complaints had been lodged of illicit operations of a still.

Local Mail

year if you're renting a home.

"You and I both know that these figures are conservative," he said.

"May we point out that it takes your letter carrier 25 years to reach his top salary, which is then only $4,710 per annum, before taxes. This is $1,000 per year less than what the Heller committee found."

Letters Urged

Mr. Hofbauer urged that residents of the area write to Senators Ives and Javits and Congressmen Wharton asking their support of the following bills: S-27 and HR-2474 relating to salary and S-21 and HR-607 relating to retirement.

He pointed out that a mailman starts at $3,660. After seven years he is increased to $4,410, after 18 years to $4,610 and after 25 years to $4,710.

Salary Proposals

The new bills call for a starting salary of $5,500 with a $200 increase per year until the maximum of $6,100 is reached in four years.

Mr. Hofbauer explained that letter carriers do not have the right to strike and that "as faithful employees and loyal Americans, we do not desire or even request the right to improve our salary and working conditions through the right to strike."

Wouldn't Start Over

The U. S. Post Office Department recently conducted a survey and found that more than 40 per cent of the present carriers would not seek employment with the post office today if they were to start over again.

Mr. Hofbauer told The Freeman. Officers from Local 550, besides Mr. Hofbauer, are Richard Howard, vice president, Elton Doughty, secretary, and Andrew Sweeney, treasurer.

Reported in Iowa

Williamam, Conn., June 18 (AP)—Two longshoremen being sought in connection with the beating and robbing of Hollis Hendricks of Russell, N. Y., in North Windham May 22, have been reported by a state police official to have been seen in Sioux City, Iowa, last week.

State Police Lt. John C. Lawrence said yesterday that John Donaleski, 30, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Charles McNally, 31, of Massena, N. Y., wanted since the holdup here, purchased four new tires in Sioux City and drove off after giving a worthless check in payment.

Civil Service Exam For Social Worker

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Clinical Social Worker for filling positions paying $4,525 and $5,440 a year in hospitals and regional offices of the Veterans Administration, located throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico.

No written test is required. To qualify, applicants must have completed appropriate study in an accredited graduate school of social work and have had pertinent social casework experience.

Applications will be accepted until further notice and must be filed with the executive secretary, Central Board of United States Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Still Seek Missile

Erica, Va., June 18 (AP)—After three days of digging that produced nothing except a yawning hole in the ground, the navy has yet to unearth the one-ton missile that landed in a back yard here last Wednesday. Workmen using a heavy power shovel had excavated a crater 36 feet wide and 30 feet deep by yesterday afternoon behind the cottage where the non-explosive 16-inch shell fell. The projectile apparently was still deeper in the sandy soil.

Ancient Council Installs Vault As New Master

Frank L. Vault Jr., of 56 Roosevelt avenue was elected and installed as master of Ancient City Council, 21, R & SM, at its recent annual assembly at Masonic Temple.

Other officers elected and installed were:

Lewis G. Richardson, deputy master; Leslie S. Lyons, principal conductor of work; Claude Gorsline, treasurer; Henry J. Rover, recorder and Howard B. Williams, trustee.

The master appointed Ralph E. Gardner, chaplain; Lawrence C. Wilcox, captain of the guard; Guy P. Baker, conductor of the council; J. Reeves Kelley, steward; Robert F. Short, marshal and Irving H. Wilcox, sentinel.

The newly elected and appointed officers were installed by Right Illustrious Paul Jones assisted by Herbert Smith as grand marshal and Ervin J. Klinger as grand chaplain.

W. Frank Davis was reelected recorder emeritus. His death, which occurred Monday, June 17 terminated more than 34 years consecutive years service as recorder and recorder emeritus.

A large number of companions was present and at the close of the assembly refreshments were served.

Denies Role in Riot

Taipei, Formosa, June 18 (AP)—Police officers testified today that a 32-year-old real estate broker led the mob which attacked the U. S. embassy in Taipei May 24. Chen Cheng-chiu, who hails from the central China city of Hankow, denied the accusation at his court-martial. He also denied he had acted as self-appointed leader of the mob which later besieged the Taipei police headquarters. Police said Chen had demanded that seven foreigners given asylum at the headquarters be handed over to the crowds and that all rioters under arrest there be released.
